FAMILY-TO-FAMILY AGREEMENT
PARENT-TEEN DRIVING AGREEMENT

DRIVING CONTRACTS
FAMILY-TO-FAMILY AGREEMENT

Stronger laws play a part in keeping roads safe for everyone, but parents play a critical role in enforcing these laws and serving as good role models for their children. Since many state laws lack key provisions, graduated driver licensing laws should be considered as baselines. It is recommended that parents in states with weak passenger restrictions not allow their teen to ride with other teen drivers and not allow them to transport other teens in the first year of driving. It’s tempting to be lured by the convenience of having other options for getting kids to and from school and practices, but the risks are just too great.

Recognizing that parents may feel awkward about enforcing rules that other parents are not enforcing, AAA encourages parents to work as a team to ensure teens gain driving experience in the safest environment possible during that first year. AAA also encourages parents to talk with one another about the driving rules in their respective homes and encourages them to develop some common rules. That way, teens who are friends have the same or similar rules, which helps remove some of the peer pressure to break parental-imposed rules.

Families are joining forces by creating voluntary Family-to-Family Agreements that define acceptable driving behavior. Some high schools and community organizations also are encouraging these contracts to create a support system for parents and greater protection for teens.

Please note that these agreements may be customized to fit your needs. You may choose to use the agreements as is, or only choose sections that you feel comfortable in implementing.
SPELL IT OUT: CREATE A PARENT-TEEN DRIVING AGREEMENT

Graduated licensing laws put restrictions on inexperienced drivers. As drivers gain experience, they earn additional privileges.

As a parent, you also can add protective guidelines through a Parent-Teen Driving Agreement. These agreements were pioneered about 15 years ago to address some key facts:

- A recent study by the National Institutes of Health confirms that parental involvement and restrictions significantly reduce risky driving behavior during a driver’s first 12–18 months behind the wheel.
- Teens lack experience and judgment and are susceptible to impulse behavior and peer pressure. A contract can help teens govern their behavior in unfamiliar circumstances.

A contract communicates that driving is a privilege that your family takes seriously. It’s important that parents and teens share a clear understanding of expectations and consequences. Putting expectations and consequences in writing helps parents enforce standards consistently.

Parents should review and adjust the contract before presenting it to the teen for discussion. To make this contract meaningful, it’s important that you do not allow your teen to drive independently until the agreement is signed.

Schedule a review date for the contract. As your new driver demonstrates good driving habits and good judgment over time, specific points in the contract may be renegotiated. You may relax restrictions or allow special privileges, or if your teen has not lived up to the contract, add new restrictions.

FAMILY-TO-FAMILY AGREEMENT

We, the undersigned parents agree to work as a team to ensure teens gain driving experience in the safest environment possible. Because we care about our teens and respect the responsibilities of parents, we:

Agree that our teens won’t drive with other teens or be driven by a teen driver for a period of at least _____ months. We recognize that each passenger increases risk. We shall not allow our new driver to have passengers. We ask that you place the same restriction on your teen.

Agree that our teens won’t drive at night between the hours of _____ to _____ for a period of at least _____ months.

Agree to talk to our teens about the importance of always wearing a safety belt — in every seating position in the vehicle.

Shall not provide alcohol or other drugs to teens who are guests in our home, nor will we allow teens to bring alcohol or other drugs into our home. We ask that you observe these same restrictions.

Agree to monitor our behavior in the car and be the best role models possible for our teen drivers.

If we suspect your teen has been drinking or using other drugs, or is otherwise unfit to drive, we will call you. If we cannot reach you, we will get your teen home safely.

We will call you if we have questions about the whereabouts, supervision or driving behavior of our teen. We encourage you to call us if you have any concerns.

Shared Commitment

Our family pledges its support of our newest driver. We will do everything we can to promote safe driving and responsible behavior.

On the first of every month, we Parents/Guardians and Teen agree to have a meeting to discuss driving performance. These meetings are to provide helpful answers to any questions, comments or concerns our teen may have. Further, we Parents/Guardians will provide feedback on our teen’s driving performance at this time.

Additionally, there will be four random performance review dates throughout the course of one year. We Parents/Guardians will ride along with our teen driver and assess his or her driving performance. Some of the key behaviors are listed but not limited to:

- safety belt use
- signal use
- braking
- stopping
- mirror use
- turning
- speed
- lane maintenance
- passing
- following distance.

It is recommended that each review vary the time of day, type of roadway and other conditions for a more comprehensive assessment. Parents/Guardians are to provide a written assessment of teen driving performance and go over the issues identified with the teen. Parents/Guardians may determine an appropriate increase or decrease in driving privileges.
Teen: In initialing terms and signing this contract, I acknowledge that I understand my legal responsibilities and commitment to my family as a driver. I agree to abide by the terms of this contract and accept the forfeit of privileges if I fail to comply.

Learning to drive can be both exciting and stressful for a teenager — and his or her parents. AAA has developed this parent-teen driving agreement to help families work together to safely navigate the learning process. The agreement helps establish rules and consequences for teens, but also places responsibilities on parents. Safe driving generally requires much more than what state laws call for, and signing an agreement before the teen starts driving can be helpful in establishing expectations for the whole family. By working as a team, parents and teens can accomplish their shared goal — a safe, successful teen driver. Note: Driver licensing requirements vary by state and should be considered a minimum for teens. Find state-by-state requirements and a full-length driving agreement at AAA.com/publicaffairs.

Intermediate License/Solo Driving

Driving without a parent poses new challenges for a teen. Crash rates are especially high during the first year of driving. Research shows that teens have fewer crashes when there are limits on solo driving that gradually relax as they gain experience. The table below is based on research and modeled after the National Institute of Health’s Checkpoints program. Suggestions are provided in the boxes below; check that the rules you set meet requirements in your state. Breaking rules, at-fault crashes, and moving violations should result in reverting to an earlier phase for a pre-determined time. Critical violations (racing, reckless driving, drinking and driving, etc.) should result in license suspension for a pre-determined time.
