Identity Theft: what is it and what you can do about it?

Search “identity theft” on the internet, and you’ll get millions of results. With an overwhelming amount of information available on this growing crime, it can be tough to get a handle on how identity theft affects you, and more importantly, what you can do to keep your personal information safe.

What is identity theft?

Identity theft occurs when someone’s personal information is fraudulently obtained and used for financial gain—often years after the original theft. Not only does identity theft invade your privacy, it robs you of your most valuable asset: peace of mind.

How do thieves steal your identity?

While the most common form of identity theft—85 percent—involves the illegal acquisition of credit cards and account information, there are many methods thieves use to steal your private information, such as your Social Security number, to commit fraud, including:

• Data Breaches: A data breach occurs when secure data is wrongly released to or accessed by unauthorized individuals. Breaches are perpetrated by a single hacker, an organized crime group, or even other governments. Thieves can sometimes wait years after a data breach to sell or misuse stolen information. In 2016, more than 31 percent of data breach victims experienced identity theft, compared to less than 3 percent of those not notified of a data breach.

• The Dark Web: Think of the internet as a three-layer cake. Layer one is the public web where leading sites, like Google, reside. The second layer includes non-public sites, such as corporate intranets. The final layer is the Dark Web. The Dark Web is an illegal marketplace where visitors mask their identities to buy and trade someone’s personal information, including passport numbers, birthdates, and more.

• Phishing: Phishing scams attempt to retrieve personal and/or financial information, including computer passwords and credit card details, to defraud or steal someone’s identity. ‘Phishers’ try to convince you to share data, and if successful, use it to defraud you.

• Snail Mail Fraud: Despite digital delivery systems such as electronic bill pay, identity thieves still use mailboxes to steal personal information, including tax information, Social Security and health insurance data.

More than 15 million Americans have experienced identity fraud and theft, with $16 billion stolen from their wallets, banking and credit accounts, personal computers, mobile phones, and even social media accounts. Although people between the ages of 25-64 experience the highest rate of identity theft, no one is safe, not even children. In fact, nearly 1 million children have been victims of identity theft since 2011.

What can you do to prevent identity theft?

While there’s no way to stop identity theft from happening entirely, there are steps you can take to help prevent it. To get started:

1. Monitor your credit reports: Check your report from all major bureaus—Experian®, Equifax® and, TransUnion® for fraudulent activity.

2. Monitor your bank accounts: Check for suspicious activity. If you spot something, address it immediately.

3. Secure your accounts: Create a strong password. Even better, make it a passphrase and create a unique login for each of your social media and email accounts.

Bonus tip: For more protection and greater peace of mind, consider enrolling in ProtectMyID from AAA. Fueled by Experian, a global leader in identity security, and built for today’s changing world of increasing threats and data breaches, ProtectMyID helps you take control of, detect and resolve identity theft. Motorcycle Safety Awareness Month

May is Motorcycle Safety Awareness Month. With warmer weather, it's time to remind everyone to be on the alert and to share the road with motorcyclists.

Riders who have been cooped up all winter are excited to be out on the road again, but that shouldn't stop them from using caution.

Both motorcyclists and motorists need to be aware of their surroundings. Checking blind spots, mirrors and using turn signals are necessary when changing lanes and when passing.

Distracted driving has been on the rise, too. Distractions during driving could mean the difference between seeing a motorcyclist or not when preparing to change lanes. Don't let one text change anyone's life forever!

Riders need to take precautions as well. Take a defensive driving course, wear protective gear and keep your bike in its best working condition. Also, be aware of any road hazards and dangerous weather conditions.

Most of all, enjoy your ride and make it home again!

For more information visit www.nhtsa.gov/safety/motorcycles.

Chanticleer Garden
Chanticleer Garden is 40 minutes outside Philadelphia in Wayne, Pennsylvania, and is known as one of the best gardens in the area. The estate itself dates back to the early 20th century, giving the space a historical feel, yet the colorful design of Chanticleer lends the garden a contemporary vibe.

A 47-acre public garden facility located on the former grounds of the estate of pharmaceutical manufacturer Adolph G. Rosengarten, offering a variety of landscaped gardens and open lawn space for public relaxation. The Chanticleer estate was originally constructed in 1912 as the summer home for the family of Adolph G. Rosengarten, the owner of the Philadelphia-based Rosengarten and Sons pharmaceutical company.

Visitors will enjoy exploring eight distinct gardens and various themed wooded areas, such as the Asian woods. There is a meadow, a creek, and an orchard, along with elevated walkways amid flowers and plant life. Guests may also take classes and workshops or join guided tours. Guided tours of the Chanticleer House are offered seasonally by appointment for small groups and organizations, lasting approximately 90 minutes.

Chanticleer is open to the public Wednesday through Sunday from 10 am until 5pm. The garden is also open on Friday evenings until 8:00 p.m. from May through Labor Day.

Pricing includes:
- Adults (13 years and over) - $10.00

Before traveling the PA Turnpike, make sure you know the payment options available for your exit.

TURNPIKE PAYMENT OPTIONS FAQS

What credit cards are accepted?
The PA Turnpike accepts Visa, MasterCard, Discover, American Express, JCB, and Diners Club.

What if you lose your toll ticket?
With no toll ticket, a collector cannot determine your entry point; as a result, you will be charged the toll from the furthest entry point.

What happens if you accidentally go through an E-ZPass lane?
Keep your toll ticket and wait for the violation notice in the mail which takes approximately three weeks. Instructions for payment will be included in the violation notice. Do not send payment before you receive the notice. If you are using a rental vehicle, please contact the rental company about their tolling policy. See our Rental Car page for more information.

What happens if you don’t have enough cash to pay the toll?
You may use a major credit card (Visa, Mastercard, Discover or American Express) at a toll booth where there is a toll collector. Unattended (coin drop) toll locations, and cashless tolling locations do not accept credit card payment. If you do not have a major credit card, ask the toll collector for a Certificate of Passage when exiting. Please go to the Make a Payment page for more information.

I passed through a PA Turnpike cashless tolling point and couldn’t pay cash. What do I do?
You will receive an invoice in the mail from the PA Turnpike through the PA Turnpike TOLL BY PLATE system. The invoice will be sent to the registered owner of the vehicle.

I don’t have a bank account or credit card. Can I still sign up for E-ZPass?
Yes. This option requires a $10 deposit for each transponder, an initial payment of $35 per transponder plus a $3 annual fee to open your account. You are required to replenish your account balance when it reaches a cumulative value of $15 or less per transponder. To replenish your account you may send a check, money order or pay cash at the PTC E-ZPass Customer Service Center.

I don’t want to give you a credit card or my bank account information to get E-ZPass. What other option do I have?
You can still use cash at most toll plazas with a few exceptions; however E-ZPass does remain the most affordable way to travel the PA Turnpike. If you haven’t driven the Turnpike in a while, be sure to visit this payment options map and FAQs: http://bit.ly/PATurnpikePaymentOptions

A timely reminder from AAA
Have you checked your calendar today?

Chances are you have a couple of special occasions coming up soon. Mother’s Day? Father’s Day? Perhaps a wedding or a graduation ceremony? Time to go shopping. You want your gifts to be something special...something the recipient would choose, given the chance.

You could scour the mall/web/catalogs to find that magical gift. Or, you could delight your loved ones with a Visa Gift Card. It’s welcomed at millions of merchants that accept Visa, and it can be used in stores, online or for catalog purchases.

The Visa Gift Card is a prepaid card that limits spending to the amount you place on the card – between $10 and $500. Each purchase is deducted from the card until there’s no longer a balance. It’s easy to keep track of the card’s balance – online, on the phone, or even through many merchants. And, since it’s protected by Visa, once registered by the recipient, the gift card can be replaced if lost or stolen.

So remember: Go to AAA for Visa Gift Cards, available at a low fee. You can go online to AAA.com/giftcards, call 1-866-674-9622 or visit your local AAA office.

Shop Online with Confidence

The freedom to spend online shouldn’t mean compromising your personal or financial information. In a time when data breaches are making headlines, and cyber theft is a major threat, it’s important to keep your primary accounts and personal information out of harm’s way.

While it’s easy to pay with plastic, choosing a secure card—like a reloadable prepaid card—will eliminate worry and limit exposure to potential fraud. The popularity of prepaid continues to grow as consumers have experienced the benefits of security and convenience by adding this card to their wallet. Reloadable prepaid cards are not linked to a bank or credit account, so finances and personal information are protected against virtual spending risks. Cardholders set the amount available to spend and reload funds when necessary. Using prepaid can help with budgeting and prevent overspending since there is no borrowing money or running up debt. Cardholders have control of how much they choose to spend and at what intervals.

Those who want ultimate peace of mind choose prepaid cards with chip-and-PIN technology and the backing of major payment networks, such as Visa®. Prepaid can be used anywhere the major network is accepted. If a card is lost or stolen, some cards even offer emergency services, like cash and card replacement.

Many prepaid cards offer free and simple ways to access and manage account information. Popular card management tools include online account access and smartphone apps to monitor card balance and transaction activity—anytime, anywhere. Thousands of retailers offer the ability to reload prepaid cards with cash, check or debit card. It’s also possible to automate the reloading process with direct deposit.

Prepaid is an ideal financial solution for the entire family. Neither a bank account nor credit check are required to get a card. Online payments and shopping have become mainstream, and with the amount of fraud on the rise, it’s important to choose a payment solution that delivers all-around protection for every level of spending.

Fraud and theft aren’t just exclusive to online—it can happen anywhere. Start giving yourself the freedom to spend with a card backed by the trusted reputations of AAA and Visa.

Enjoy all of these benefits and more with a AAA MemberPay Visa Prepaid Card. Purchase one at your local AAA or get more details at AAA.com/MemberPay. Card is issued by MetaBank®, Member FDIC, pursuant to a license from Visa U.S.A. Inc. and can be used everywhere Visa debit cards are accepted.

Road trips with your pet

With summer comes one of our favorite ways to skip town – road trips! Why not bring your pet? If your cat or dog likes car rides, a road trip is a great way to bond with your pet and make lasting memories.

Check in with the Vet

Before your trip, get a quick checkup and update your pet’s vaccinations. Also, make sure your contact info matches the vet’s scan of your pet’s microchip (ID tags can get lost). If your pet has motion sickness, the vet can help by prescribing medication to help curb it.

Packing & preparation

You’ll need food, water, comfy blankets, traveling crates, waste disposal baggies and traveling containers for the initial trip. It’s also good to have towels, pet wipes, an extra collar, and leash. Take your regular emergency equipment (first aid kit, flashlight, etc.) as well as jugs of water, an extra four day supply of food, and any necessary medications.

Secure your pet in the car

Safety is a serious issue – car accidents are a big hazard so harnesses, seatbelts, and carriers are of utmost importance. Cats and overexcited dogs should be placed in an airy, size-appropriate carrier. And don’t forget the entertainment! Bring the tastiest treats and fun toys to keep your pet preoccupied.

Provide pit stops for any length car trip

Hop out of the car every couple hours to stretch legs and go the bathroom. If your cat is leash-trained, they could benefit from a walk just like the pups. For car trips over six hours, feed your pet during a stop; if you give them food while the car is in motion, it can cause nausea and vomiting. And of course – when you leave the rest stop, remember to clean up after you and your pet. Some safety tips: Do not leave your pet unattended in your car and never release your pet in unfamiliar territory (especially cats!). You don’t want them to be hit by a car or become the prey of a wild animal. If your pet is insured, you’ll be happy to know that Healthy Paws accepts claims from any licensed vet in the US (and if you’re traveling in Canada).

Road trips with your pet can be a fun bonding experience. If you’re planning an excursion by car with your cat or dog this summer, being prepared is the best way to pet parent! Get a free quote for Healthy Paws Pet Insurance today by going to www.healthypawspetinsurance.com/aaanpenn.
7 Simple reasons to include life insurance in your plans

Life insurance is a simple and affordable way to plan for your financial future. Here are seven reasons to consider life insurance in your financial plan:

1. It’s more affordable when you’re young — and you’ll never be younger than you are today. The price of life insurance is based upon a number of factors, among them your age and health. The sooner you take action, the better rates you are likely to qualify for.

2. It helps secure your family’s financial future. There are many unknowns in life. Life insurance can help those you care about maintain their standard of living, no matter what happens.

3. You don’t have to be in perfect health to qualify for life insurance. Nearly 40% of people delay getting life insurance because they don’t think they’d qualify for coverage. But when a health concern is controlled with the help of a doctor and medication, it can still be possible to qualify for affordable life insurance.

4. There are different types of policies for varying needs. If you are going through many life changes right now – a new baby, a bigger house or changing jobs – it may be best to consider a Term Life policy. A Whole Life policy provides simple, lifelong coverage. A Universal Life policy provides permanent coverage that can help meet your changing needs.

5. It’s more affordable than you may think. Many consumers overestimate the cost of life insurance – by up to seven times the actual cost. In reality, a life insurance policy can be a surprisingly affordable way to help protect your family.

6. You can get help for free. An agent can guide you through a needs assessment to help you find coverage that fits your budget, lifestyle and financial goals. Best of all, this consultation is completely free.

7. The future is unpredictable. It’s impossible to know what will happen tomorrow. Life insurance can provide a straightforward and logical solution to put a plan in place for your family.

The art of truck camping

The idea of truck camping is appealing to anyone who loves the outdoors, but doesn’t want to purchase an RV. If you have a truck already, there’s a lot you can do to turn it into the camp-mobile of your dreams! These upgrades range from minor, easy and on the cheap to a DIYer’s glamping fantasy. It’s all about what suits your needs — just keep a few simple concepts in mind.

Coverage

Maybe you have a hard cover or canopy in place already. That will work great! If you don’t, it’s simple enough to build a sparse frame out of PVC and cover it with a tarp, or buy a pop-up tent that fits in the back. Whatever your solution, it should focus on weatherproofing to keep you and your stuff dry, and it should provide some level of security, though you can always lock valuables up in the front.

Storage

Pack your gear based on pre-made lists, so you don’t forget anything and have what you need for different situations (i.e. drinking water if you’re not camping near any). The key to storage is two-part: organization and expansion. For optimal organization, build a customized raised-floor bed, ideally with drawers or some other sliding mechanism to store and reach things all the way at the back. Store similar things together (cooking supplies, clothing, etc.) and in separate bins for easy access. The expansion part has more to do with what you store. A couple of poles, rope, bungees and a tarp can extend coverage off the back of the truck to create space to relax once you’ve arrived. Even if there’s no rain, you’ll likely be happy to have the shade.

Sleeping and Privacy

Sleep on top of the platform. You won’t need that much space, as you’re only lying down. You can make it as plush as you like with a mattress, or just throw a camping mat and sleeping bag down if that’s your style. If you have a solid canopy with windows, you can easily install bars with shortened, opaque shower curtains for privacy. The two important things to remember here are keep it comfy and keep it clean.

Eating and Entertainment

Bring prepared meals as you would for any other type of camping trip — the simpler the better. Make sure to wash all your utensils after every trip, so they’re ready for the next one. Back to the expansion idea, you can easily set up a makeshift living room or hangout space by packing camping chairs and a surface that can double for meal prep and eating. A pack of cards and pair of dice take up minimal space, but offer near-endless game options for groups of all sizes. Some folks are inclined to go all-out, installing things like A/C and sound systems — you name it. That’s great if you think it’s worth it, but it’s also easy to have a great time with much less. In the end, it’s about your needs and budget. So grab a map and get out there!

How to talk with a shop about auto repair

If your car has a problem, you know your car better than anyone and will be first to notice if its performance changes. The more information you can share with the auto repair shop, the better prepared they will be to identify the problem in a timely and cost-effective manner.

Help Your Technician Make an Accurate Diagnosis

When discussing car trouble with an auto repair shop, some drivers offer a diagnosis or request a specific service operation. They may think this makes them appear knowledgeable, or hope that by asking for “just a tune up” they can limit the repair costs. Unfortunately, this approach often results in spending money on work that has no effect on the problem. A better approach is to simply describe the symptoms your car exhibits and allow a trained auto mechanic to make an accurate diagnosis.

For example: Are any warning lights on? When did you first notice the problem? Did anything unusual happen at that time? What feels different to you? (steering pulls, brake pedal sponginess, vibration, etc.) What do you hear? (rattling backfires, screeching, etc.) Do you notice any unusual smells? (gasoline, smoke, burning rubber, etc.) Do you see any leaks or fluid stains where you park? What color is the fluid? When does the problem occur? (time of day, weather conditions, vehicle load, accelerating, braking, turning, etc.) When do you not notice the problem?

To prevent forgetting anything, it can be helpful to put your observations in writing before you head to the shop. Once there, be honest and practice full disclosure. If another auto shop worked on your vehicle recently, or you tried to fix the problem yourself, tell the repair shop and technician because this will affect how they approach the diagnosis.

Here are some sample problem descriptions:

When driving over bumps, I hear a rattle under the front of the car on the passenger side. When I apply the brakes, the steering pulls to the driver’s side and there is a grinding noise. When driving up a hill in the rain the car begins to shake and loses power. The car stalls at stoplights, and when I restart the engine black smoke comes from the tail pipe and there is the smell of gasoline.

Even if you fear some of your observations are silly or irrelevant, state them anyway. Something that seems minor to you could save the auto repair shop and mechanic a lot of time, and you a lot of money. Clear and thorough communication is key to resolving car problems in a timely and cost-effective manner. When you do your part by sharing information, everyone benefits.

Approved Auto Repair

AAA’s Approved Auto Repair program guarantees AAA members quality auto care service from facilities that have passed our stringent standards for manpower, appearance, equipment, and cost-effectiveness. They may think this makes them appear knowledgeable, or hope that by asking for “just a tune up” they can limit the repair costs. AAA reminds teens: Click It or Ticket!

As the temperatures warm up outside we want to remind all drivers about the Click It or Ticket Campaign. One of the safest choices drivers and passengers can make is to buckle up. In 2016, seat belt use in passenger vehicles saved an estimated 14,668 lives. Many Americans understand the lifesaving value of the seat belt – the national use rate is at 90.1 percent – but nearly 27.5 million people still don’t buckle up. Understand the potentially fatal consequences of not wearing a seat belt and learn what you can do to make sure you and your family are properly buckled up every time.

Sadly, there is one group of drivers that tend to fail to comply with this law, teens. Teens, as both passengers and drivers, have the lowest rate of seat belt use of any age group, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). Seat belt statistics show the consequences are deadly for not using seat belts. More states are enacting primary seat belt laws to potentially save many teen lives.

Seat belt use is one of the most effective ways to save lives and reduce injuries in crashes. Seat belts prevent drivers and passengers from being ejected during a crash. Parents should insist on seat belts on every trip and encourage their teens to buckle up before turning on the ignition.

Answers to Frequently Asked Questions about Safe Driving

“It’s been years, but now that I’m retired, I’m ready to get back on a motorcycle and have some fun. Any suggestions before I take off?”

Be in the know before you go!

A lot has changed since your early riding years. There is more traffic, faster traffic, motorcycles are larger, heavier and more powerful, and there are different risks when navigating in traffic with a motorcycle versus a car.

Also, take into consideration age-related changes that affect riding – delayed reaction time, altered balance, vision changes, decreased bone density and decreased muscle strength. Factor in medication and/or alcohol that compound the changes with age, and riding becomes riskier.

A recent Pennsylvania study found that trained riders reduced their likelihood of severe injury or death in a crash.

Be a safe rider; take an approved motorcycle safety course. Motorcycle safety courses are free for residents of Pennsylvania.

The Pennsylvania Motorcycle Safety Program (pamsmp) offers training to motorcycle drivers of all levels - new riders, semi-experienced, three-wheeled and advance riders.

Some insurance companies offer discounts to riders who successfully complete the training.

For more information on the Motorcycle Safety Program and to enroll in a course, visit www.pamsmp.com or call 1-800-845-9533.

Even if you stopped riding for the winter, your riding abilities are not the same as they were last fall. Consider yourself a beginner. Take time to practice and reacquaint yourself with your bike. It is equally important to always wear full protective gear whenever you ride.

Car Rental Tips

While renting a car is relatively straightforward, the first time or non-frequent renter inevitably will come across some parts of the process that may be confusing. In order to prevent this, Hertz strongly recommends that renters do a bit of homework prior to reserving and subsequently renting a car to make their time on the road as fast and easy as possible. Things to consider:

BEFORE YOU RENT
• Compare the total value being offered, not just the price. Check the rental car company policies, types of cars available for rent, and each company’s products and services, i.e. GPS, 24-hour Emergency Roadside Assistance, satellite radio and special equipment for the physically challenged.
• For the best rates and availability, book as far in advance as possible.
• Verify the rate guarantee period so you’ll know how long they will guarantee the quoted rate.
• Look for frequent traveler partnerships. Renters can often earn points through frequent traveler partnerships with airlines, credit card companies, hotels and other companies.
• Verify the rate guarantee period so you’ll know how long they will guarantee the quoted rate.
• If you have young children, find out if the rental car company provides child safety seats. Ask if there’s a fee for the rental and if reservations are required.

WHEN MAKING YOUR RESERVATION
• Be sure to select the vehicle that fits your needs. Don’t get so focused on price that you end up with a compact car for 4 passengers and 4 pieces of luggage. Reserve what you really need.
• Ask about discounts for national organizations, frequent-flier programs and credit card programs.
• For airport rentals, include your flight number, airline carrier and scheduled arrival time when booking your car. This can protect your reservation if the flight is delayed.
• Understand rental conditions. Is there a penalty for no-shows? How much are you charged for late returns? Is there an additional driver fee and does the name have to be on the contract?
• Make sure you understand and meet the rental qualifications. For example, the renter has a valid driver’s license and valid form of payment (i.e. credit card) in the same name.

BEFORE YOU TRAVEL
• Find out from your car insurance company if your policy protects you when renting. Are you protected if the car is in an accident, stolen or vandalized? Some credit cards provide limited coverage if the card is used to pay for the rental. Verify the extent of the coverage with the company. If your insurance policy or credit card does not offer sufficient coverage, you should consider choosing the Loss Damage Waiver and other optional services to ensure you have some protection against unexpected incidents.
• Check if your homeowner’s policy protects your personal belongings while in a rental, and determine if your medical coverage is sufficient to protect you if you were in an accident. If not, you probably should consider accepting the Personal Effects Coverage and Personal Accident Insurance offered at the rental counter.

AT VEHICLE PICK-UP
• Inspect the car carefully with the rental representative. Check the mileage odometer and fuel level. Make sure damage is recorded and the mileage and fuel level are accurately noted. Be sure lights and turn signals are working properly.

AT VEHICLE RETURN
• Allow ample time when returning rental cars. Keep in mind that slow local traffic conditions, an unexpected delay or refueling can result in unexpected delays. In addition, airline security adds time to the check-in process. To alleviate time constraints, confirm with the airport to determine what procedures are in place and the estimated time you should allocate for these procedures.
• Remember to fill up the gas tank before returning the car. Filling up the car will save the cost of refueling charge. Some companies offer a fuel purchase option where customers buy a full tank of gas up front and pay nothing for fuel upon return, saving time. Check with your rental company.

MONEY SAVING TIPS
• Understand the Rental Conditions: Is there a penalty for no-shows? How much are you charged if the car is returned late? Is there a fee for additional drivers and do their names have to be listed in the contract?
• Rental Timing: Determine how long you need a rental – sometimes a weekly rate can provide savings vs. shorter rentals. Also, consider pick-up dates for the car – sometimes weekday rates can provide cost savings. Hence, try a number of combinations when selecting your rental period.

New Premier Travel Groups announced

AAA North Penn was excited to congratulate Glenn Smith on his retirement at the end of March 2019, and we are equally excited to announce that travel legends live on! Glenn will continue his role of AAA North Penn’s Travel Escort Extraordinaire with the introduction of our new Premier Travel Groups. In 2020, we are eager to offer three Premier Groups with Glenn! Keeping his passport current will be important for Glenn as he escorts a 14 day visit to Spain and Portugal in June 2020. Enjoy the pageantry, art, history, and culture of these beautiful countries when you join the first Premier Group of 2020. There are so many memories to be made as the group visits the sunny Mediterranean shores and the beautiful cities of Toledo, Cordoba, Seville, Valencia, and Barcelona. In addition, this tour includes stops in Lisbon, Fatima, Nazare, and Madrid.

Get your passport ready for another stamp as you head to the Canadian Rockies with Rocky Mountaineer in August of next year. Visit the beautiful coastal cities and the quaint mountain towns of the majestic mountain range that we share with our neighbor to the north. This tour features the Vancouver Lookout and a North Shore Tour, including the Capilano Suspension Bridge and Grouse Mountain. In addition, you will tour Yoho Park, Banff, and the beautiful Lake Louise. In Calgary, enjoy the views from a panoramic helicopter flightseeing tour, and then take it all in from the dramatic Calgary Tower as you realize that the beauty of nature is all around us and meant to be enjoyed.

In Glenn’s third Premier Group, experience the continental United States in a new way, by cruising down the Mississippi River. Explore our storied and historical South with a journey from New Orleans to Memphis. Travel through the living history of the antebellum era where plantations, mansions and the mighty Mississippi River remind us of days gone by. This tour will highlight such sites as Nottoway Plantation, St. Francisville, Natchez, Vicksburg, and the Mississippi River Delta. Soak up the culture of the south on this relaxing Premier Groups offer.

Some things are too good to let them go by the wayside, and we are thrilled to continue to offer members the best of the best with our Premier Groups. Watch for more information about Premier Groups with Glenn Smith coming in 2020 to the AAA North Penn office near you!

Busting a few myths about AAA Travel Agents

By: Linda Welshans, Director of Travel Services

Folks ask us all the time why they should book their family vacations with a travel agent. Let’s face it, it’s tempting to be able to book your trips online, in the comfort of your own home. You can definitely save money by comparison shopping in order to get the lowest price. Besides using the services of a Travel Agent will cost more, right?

This is not true! We could easily spout statistics, like the fact that 51 percent of all U.S. travel is booked via travel agents, but this doesn’t get to the heart of the situation.

Let me bust these myths for you and get to the truth of the matter.

Travel Agents are “All Inclusive.”

Hotels, vacation package companies, and cruise lines include our commissions in their published prices. If you do all the work, they “pocket” the difference. Use a travel agent and you won’t be spending hours on the internet, holding on the phone for eternity or wasting any precious time wondering and worrying. AAA travel is a one-stop shop when it comes to planning your vacation. Not only can we book your entire vacation, from the airline tickets to the cruise or tour, but we also have all of the incidentals that you may not think of, such as travel insurance, foreign currency, and even luggage! Even more importantly, we have the experience and knowledge to make the most of your family vacation.

Travel Agents Match Online Prices.

We do our best to find you the best deals available. If you do find a lower price online, let us know. Nine times out of 10 we can match, or beat, that price if you tell us about it. If we cannot beat it, we’ll let you know why it’s probably a scam and not a deal. You benefit by getting the best price and our exceptional service.

Travel Agents Do Not Cost More.

AAA North Penn never charges services fees for booking cruises and tours. Our services are free to our members. We earn our living by the sales commissions we earn from the hotels, cruises, tour and sightseeing companies, and rental cars. The airlines haven’t paid commissions to travel agents since the mid-1990s, so we do charge a nominal fee to book airline tickets. However, this fee is discounted for our members.

You do not have to be a member of AAA to use AAA Travel.

The very first question an agent will ask you when you sit at their desk is, “Are you a member of AAA?” The reason they are asking is that AAA offers numerous member benefits and discounts for our members. Although, you do not have to be a member to book your travel through AAA, given the additional member savings with our preferred vendors it is almost always worth it to join! Most times the savings will far outweigh the annual cost of AAA membership!

Scranton office Member Tour heads to the Music Cities

AAA Members from the Greater Lackawanna County Area recently returned from the Scranton office group tour, and everyone is still talking! A busload of music and fun loving folks left the Dickson City office for their flight to Nashville and the beginning of a tour of three of music’s most historic locations.

Under the guidance and support of AAA escort, Lois Smith, the group began their tour in Nashville and world famous RCA Studio B, where artists including Dolly Parton, Charlie Pride, and yes, Elvis Presley, recorded some of their most famous hits. The sounds still echoed as the group walked through, and then it was on to the state capitol, Music Row and the Country Music Hall of Fame, a must see for any music fan. The day was topped off by an evening concert at the Grand Ole Opry! Whew, what a day!

A stop at Ryman Auditorium and the Belle Meade Plantation began the next day before heading to Memphis, the birthplace of Blues, Rock’n’Roll and Soul. A city tour was followed by a visit to Graceland, the palatial estate of the late icon, Elvis Presley. The visit to RCA studios brought a special show stopping moment for the group. Tour member, Wanda Crown got to sit and play at the same piano used by Elvis. Her rendition of “How Great Thou Art” brought everyone together for several memorable moments!

As the group continued on the road, their next stop included a choice between a walking tour of New Orleans’s famous French Quarter or an opportunity to explore a larger area by bus. Stops included Esplanade Avenue, the Saint Louis Cemetery, Lake Pontchartrain, and the campuses of Tulane and Loyola. And no stop in New Orleans would be complete without a taste of the famous Beignets of Café du Monde.

Lycoming County sisters experience Antarctica!

Becky Hendershot and Peg Lowmiller, sisters from the Williamsport area recently embarked on an extended adventure with their furthermost destination having them travel all the way to Antarctica! The duo had dreamed of this kind of trip, and with the help of their AAA Travel Agent, Bobbi Jo Bassler from the South Williamsport office, were able to make it happen. Imagine their itinerary…traveling through the summer heat of South America only to end up in the frigid Antarctic tundra. Quite a contrast and oh, so exciting!

The tour began in Fort Lauderdale as the pair set sail for their amazing itinerary. Through the Caribbean, the Panama Canal, and on to a tour of the Pacific coastal nations of our neighbor in the southern hemisphere. Ports of call included Ecuador, Chile, Peru, Argentina, and Cape Horn before crossing the last stretch of ocean on their way to their destination of Antarctica.

The weather was noticeably changing as they headed south – it was summer in South America, and the heat reminded them of this every day. But as they approached the continent at the bottom of the world, temperatures reminded them of why they packed hats, gloves, and warm socks for their journey. They passed a floating ice burg where Gentoo penguins greeted them and were able to enjoy several breaching performances by humpback whales. The unique landscape and wildlife enhanced their once-in-a-lifetime vacation before sailing home along the eastern seaboard of South America. Stops on the way back included the Falkland Islands, Uruguay, Buenos Aires, and Rio de Janeiro and several other points north.

It was an amazing adventure– and one that Becky and Peg are sure to enjoy again and again thanks to the pictures and souvenirs from this momentous trip!
